

SENTENCE SERGEANT TO DEATH BY HANGING

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHY T.

Editorial Gives Example of How Free Enterprise Works

CALLING ON JOE: I got hold of a New York Daily News editorial that was written just before Joe Stalin died and it is directed to him. But even so, Stalin's name is still used as a symbol of those things that are communistic and it doesn't sound so out-of-date in spite of.

The editorial reveals that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. is the largest private enterprise in the world, with assets of around twelve billion dollars. Then it says:

"We would dearly love to hear Josef Stalin or one of his little helpers explain any of this — Metropolitan Life doesn't have a single wicked, imperialist, cannibalistic stockholder. Its elected president is Charles G. Taylor Jr. His sole bosses are the 33,700,000 individuals in the United States and Canada who mutually hold Metropolitan insurance policies."

The editorial asks the question: What does the company sell that's desirable enough to attract the hard-earned savings of all those people? It's in the business of protecting people from the consequences of hard luck, it says, and points out that now the company is paying out more to living policy holders than to beneficiaries at the time of death.

The big news about all this, the editorial says, is a vivid example of how a free world can and does work.

"Behind his Iron Curtain," the editorial says, "Joe Stalin does protect his slaves, after his dictator's fashion. He gives them shacks to live in, enough grub to keep them donkey-strong, some medicine to hold them in laboring condition, and cozy uranium or whatever mines to labor in until they conk off. All his miseried serfs pay for this service is their human liberty."

GRAVE SITUATION: A man was accustomed to walking through a rural cemetery on his way home since it was a short cut. One night he started through, unaware that a new grave had been dug in his path. He tumbled into the deep grave.

For almost an hour he struggled to get out but finally gave up. He decided to settle in a corner until morning when he could call out and get some passerby to help him out, so that's what he did.

A fellow out on an opossum hunt came walking through the cemetery and he, too, fell into the grave. He began a desperate attempt to get out at the other end, unaware there was anyone else in the grave.

The first man listened to him silently for a few minutes, then reached over in the pitch darkness and laid a hand on his shoulder.

"You can't get out of here," he said.

But the other guy did!

Dodge to Quit As Director of Budget Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today Joseph M. Dodge will resign as director of the Budget Bureau April 15 to return to his position as chairman of the board of the Detroit Bank, Detroit, Mich.

President Eisenhower said in a letter to Dodge that he was accepting the resignation "only with the greatest reluctance."

Dodge has been in office 14 months.

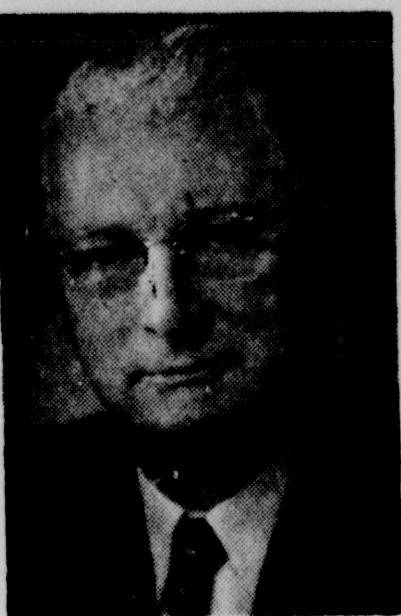

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said no successor has been selected.

Elmer Clark, 67, Thompsonville, Dies

Elmer Clark, 67, died last night at his home in Thompsonville. His body will be returned from the Courtney funeral home to the residence this afternoon to remain until the funeral.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Pleasant Hill church northeast of Thompsonville. Interment will be in Durham cemetery north of Galatia. Rev. J. J. Knight will officiate assisted by Rev. Clifford Sullivan of West End.

Mr. Clark is survived by his wife, Pearl; two daughters, Mrs. Beulah Hold-erfield, Thompsonville, and Mrs. Eula Fay Price, Benton; three brothers, Wilburn Clark, West Frankfort, Herman Clark, Galatia RFD, and Jim Clark, Thompsonville RFD; and three sisters, Mrs. Elva Johnson, Christopher, Mrs. Elsie Simmons, Chester, and Mrs. Gail Sexton, Mattoon.

Weekend "summer soldier" hikers have swelled the band's ranks and are expected to turn out in large numbers for the triumphal barge entrance.

Douglas, an outdoors enthusiast, suggested the hike after the Washington Post proposed building a modern highway along the historic canal, which stretches along the Potomac river. He maintains it should be preserved as a wildlife sanctuary and retreat for nature lovers.

Unlike the other trail veterans, he has found no need to pamper his feet with corn plasters and other foot patches. But he broke out with a new ailment. His chin is covered with a rash of poison ivy.

Harry Nave, Well Known Weekly Columnist, Dies

Harry Nave, known throughout southern Illinois for his wit and his ability to describe in his Reevesville column of country correspondence, died Wednesday and his funeral was held yesterday.

Mr. Nave, 70, was born at Thompsonville but had lived at Reevesville most of his adult life. He had been an employee of the Illinois Central railroad.

His weekly column was written for the Metropolis News, the Vienna Times and the Golconda Herald-Enterprise but it reached out farther than that. His remarks were quoted extensively throughout the area and many of his choicer bits were reprinted from time to time in The Daily Register's About Town and Country.

Three weeks ago Mr. Nave entered the Illinois Central hospital at Paducah, Ky., suffering from a heart ailment, and he was returned to his home. He was rushed back to the hospital Wednesday following another severe attack and although it appeared that he responded to treatment, he died at 4:30 p. m.

His funeral was held at 2 p. m. Friday at the First Methodist church in Metropolis with burial in Metropolis cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Clara, a daughter and two sons. He was an active member of the Masonic lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star at Ganntown.

Demo Party is Re-Invigorated, Stevenson Says

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson told a cheering crowd of about 2,500 at Carthage Friday night that the Democrats soon will "again assume major responsibilities in the direction of our country."

Stevenson was guest of honor at a reception staged by Moore County Democratic leaders and for an hour and 40 minutes he stood in a reception line shaking hands.

The titular head of the Democratic Party then stepped to a microphone and told the gathering "The time is not distant when our party will have to re-assume major responsibilities in the direction of our country."

Since its defeat the Democratic Party has "emerged stronger, refreshed, re-invigorated and dedicated to the service of all the people of our country," the 1952 presidential candidate said. "In Washington," he said, "we have the gross unpleasant spectacle of investigators investigating investigators . . . the legislative branch challenging the executive branch."

Returns to Vacationing "It is a time when America needs all the fortitude, moral strength and determination it can summon."

"I think now there is a higher degree of unity in our party than ever before so that when the time comes we will be ready to discharge the duties which lie before us."

Stevenson's sister, Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, at whose "Paint Hill Farm" he is vacationing, stood beside the former Illinois governor in the reception line in the Carthage High School gymnasium.

Stevenson returned to his vacation of golfing, riding and reading today but may interrupt his holiday periodically to work on his next major political address. He will speak next Friday at the rally of the North Carolina Young Democrats in Charlotte.

Stevenson will leave the state April 5.

Feud Diminishes Effectiveness of McCarthy: Hall

GOP Chairman Says Senator Will Not Be Party Spokesman

OMAHA (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall says Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's "effectiveness" has "diminished" since he started leading with the Army. Hall served notice on local GOP leaders that it's up to them whether they want to ask McCarthy's aid in the coming congressional campaigns.

Hall made it clear that McCarthy will not have the GOP's endorsement as an official spokesman during the campaign.

However, he conceded that the controversial Wisconsin Republican is in great demand as a congressional campaign speaker — to the point that he has more requests to speak than he can possibly fill.

Hall gave a new insight into the official Republican view of McCarthy's feud with the Army when he arrived Friday at the Omaha meeting of GOP state chairmen and other leaders from 21 Midwest and Rocky Mountain states.

He said it is "up to local officials" whether they invite McCarthy into states where pivotal congressional or senatorial races are being fought.

On the other hand, he said, the National Republican Committee "has not assigned the senator" to make any campaign speeches.

Only President Eisenhower or Vice President Richard Nixon speak for the Republican Party, he said.

Hall said he believes the "effectiveness of Sen. Joseph McCarthy has diminished" in the last two or three weeks — weeks that have been highlighted by McCarthy's fight with the Army and administrative officials over his investigative methods.

Hall said this dispute "hasn't helped anyone."

The GOP chairman said his talks with Republican leaders throughout the nation showed differences of opinion about McCarthy, but "not much more than at any other time."

Girl's Driving Lesson Disrupts Neighborhood

CHICAGO (AP)—A South Side neighborhood was still trying to recover today from Arlene Goerner's driving lesson.

Arlene, 16, took the wheel Friday with her 21-year-old brother, Howard, beside her to tell her how to do. Here's what happened:

She swerved to avoid a dog in an alley and rammed a station wagon.

The station wagon rolled into a row of garbage cans.

The garbage cans smashed into a house's back stairway. The stairway collapsed.

Arthur Monkin, 33, having a meal with his wife on the second floor of the house, muttered "something must have happened to our station wagon" and stepped out to have a look.

Since the stairway wasn't there any more, he dropped 20 feet from the second floor to the ground. He was taken to the Illinois Central hospital with a dislocated shoulder and cuts.

Arlene hid herself off to attend classes at Chicago Vocational School. She left brother Howard to explain things.

Police said Howard was "abusive" in his explaining and arrested him.

Arlene's mother, Mrs. George Goerner, went to the Hyde Park police station to bail out Howard. On her way out, Sgt. Harold Murphy stopped her.

"Here are two tickets for your daughter," he said. "One for negligent driving, the other for having no driver's license."

Musician-Composer Louis Silvers Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy Award-winning musician Louis Silvers, composer of the hit song "April Showers," died at Cedars of Lebanon hospital Friday of a heart ailment.

Silvers, 64, was musical director of one of the first sound movies, "The Jazz Singer," in 1928, and won an Academy Award for his musical direction of the film, "One Night of Love."

He had been musical director of the Lux radio show for the past 12 years.

Silvers was a brother of comedian Sid Silvers.

A native of New York, he is survived by his wife, Betty, five brothers and a sister.

H-Bomb Blast Scheduled Tentatively for April 22 Will Be Biggest in Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) said today he will fly to Bikini to witness a hydrogen superbomb test scheduled for some time between April 16 and 26.

Other sources said an explosion tentatively set for April 22, weather permitting, will be the biggest of the current test series at the Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the Pacific.

So far in the series only one test shot has been announced. That was the March 1 hydrogen explosion at Bikini which dwarfed all previous U. S. atomic blasts and obliterated the island on which it was detonated.

Van Zandt has said the March 1 explosion was powerful enough to wreak total destruction in a metropolitan area 12 miles in diameter. The blast planned for April 22 is expected to be more awesome than that.

Informed sources here said the second shot of the series, believed scheduled for the latter part of this week, has been postponed. Although the Atomic Energy Commission announced the March 1 explosion, it has said nothing of a second.

Originally, according to informed sources, it was planned to explode six test devices this spring, five of them hydrogen.

The unexpectedly tremendous size of the first explosion, plus erratic weather conditions, may have forced revision of the schedule.

BRITONS ASSURED H-TESTS WILL NOT DESTROY WORLD

LONDON (AP)—A pioneer British atomic expert assured jittery Britons today that there is no danger of America's hydrogen-bomb tests destroying the world.

"There is one thing no bomb can do—it cannot produce more energy than it contained," Dr. Otto Frisch said in a broadcast statement.

"The explosion cannot get out of control. There is no possibility the earth and sea and atmosphere can 'catch fire' as it were."

He said the fact the March 1 H-blast was unexpectedly powerful only proves that previous tests did not use all of the potential energy of the bomb.

SALINE COUNTY OIL REPORT:

Oil Activity Increases With 23 Operations

By BOB SKEELS

Activity is increasing in the county with 23 operations of which two are good rank wildcats starting this week, and three completed oil wells.

E. H. Morris has moved his rotary rig down to Raleigh and expects to be drilling under surface by next Monday on his wildcat test, the No. 1 Thornberry-Burns. Guest unit, SW NE SW of 16-8s-6e, one mile west of Raleigh. Bill Graef of M. Carmel, will do the geology and pick the samples.

The wildcat test just west of the city limits of Eldorado on the John J. Jones lease, NE NE SW, 20-8s-7e, owned by John Stelle and associates, is also beginning. Byron Rucker moved his tools on location this week and should be drilling below surface casing at this time.

Four miles northwest of Eldorado, George and Wreath are completing some fine producers in the Cypress sandstone. Their No. 4 B. F. Lemons, 2-8s-6e, was initiated (3rd day's 24 hour gauge) this week at 130 barrels oil a day after fracturing the Cypress sand 2613-26. The No. 5 same farm is a location.

Production Test

Their No. 3 Frank Parker is on a production test on Cypress sand 2553-67 and they are drilling below 2150 on the No. 1 Earl and Sally Rhine, in the same section. The No. 2 Rhine, has casing set on 13 feet of good Cypress sand but cable tools haven't moved in yet to complete it.

George and Wreath's No. 1 Harvey and Lillie Boswell is still a location.

Also in section 2-8s-6e, Dee Miller Drilling of Lawrenceville is digging at 960 on its No. 2 test on the Spurlock-Rapp-Jones unitized lease.

Schine Graduates From Basic Military Police Training

CAMP GORDON, Ga. (AP)—Pvt. G. David Schine, former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee, graduates from basic military police training today with reported ambitions to become a plain clothes MP.

The handsome, 26-year old son of a wealthy hotel owner was one of 150 men of Company G to receive diplomas at the provost marshal general center here. The diplomas were to be handed out in "mail call" fashion after a brief ceremony.

Reliable sources at the base disclosed that Schine has been seeking assignment to the Criminal Investigation Division School here. This would train him to be a plain clothes military "detective."

The sheriff said he was almost to Carmi when Proctor radioed that he had been shot and needed help. Griffith said he returned to Enfield. He said Proctor told him there Williams had shot him as he tried to arrest him.

Griffith said Williams later confessed shooting Proctor.

The sheriff and State Policeman Ben Joe Behler went to Williams house and forced him outside with tear gas when he refused to come out voluntarily. He later was taken to a Mount Carmel jail for safe-keeping.

The state called six other witnesses Friday including State Attorney William South who testified concerning the confession taken from Williams while Ivan A. Elliott Sr., special prosecution, handled the prosecution case.

Found Guilty Of Slaying Girl in Japan

Sentenced by Army Board of Three Generals, Four Colonels

TOKYO (AP)—Master Sgt. Maurice L. Schick, a former Sunday school teacher and scoutmaster, was sentenced today to death by hanging for the "urge to kill" slaying of a 9-year-old girl.

Schick, of Canonsburg, Pa., stood at attention while a board of three generals and four colonels found him guilty and ordered him executed for strangling Susan Rothschild last Nov. 21.

After hearing the pronouncement, Schick saluted sharply, made a military about-face and returned to his seat wearing an odd, frozen smile.

"It was the weirdest, strangest smile I've ever seen in my life," one spectator said.

Schick's only defense during the six-day court martial was that he must have been insane because he had a "sudden urge" to kill and received complete sexual satisfaction in the slaying.

To Press Sanity Issue

The prosecution charged Schick was sane and guilty of premeditated murder. The soldier, a Purple Heart veteran of World War II, was described by Army psychiatrists as an "anti-social personality."

Defense Counsel Major Harlow Huckabee, Mt. Royal, Va., said he would continue to press the sanity issue in his appeals.

"We'll request in writing a further psychiatric examination," Huckabee said. "We'll fight it like hell from here on."

Schick did not testify but he claimed in a confession introduced into evidence that he did not plan to kill Susan, daughter of an American colonel, as they talked on a lonely, wooded lane near her home.

Schick's confession said, however, he felt a "sudden urge to kill" and selected Susan "just because she was there."

Conflicting Testimony

The confession said he experienced a sexual climax after choking the girl and holding her down in a drainage ditch with his foot to make sure she was dead.

Testimony of four U. S. Army psychiatrists who examined Schick shortly after his arrest conflicted sharply with that of two Japanese doctors who told the court Schick suffered from the split-personality type of insanity that is known as schizophrenia.

Schick wore the weird smile and chewed gum intensely as he walked handcuffed to a military policeman through a corridor lined with spectators, including some witnesses who had testified against him.

Among the spectators was a small Japanese girl whose identification of Schick as a man she saw near the scene of the crime led to his arrest and conviction. She did not testify.

To Review Sentence

The prosecution sought the death penalty on the charge that Schick strangled the girl because he was afraid she would tell her father of some sexual advance or "lewd statement" he made during the conversation that preceded her death.

It took the court-martial board only 45 minutes to reach a guilty verdict and 10 minutes to vote unanimously by secret ballot for the death sentence.

Schick's sentence automatically will be reviewed by the commanding general of the Central Command in Tokyo, then by the Judge Advocate General's office in Washington and finally by the U. S. Court of Military Appeals, a three-man civilian board.

The soldier's lawyers said they would base their appeals on the ground that Schick was denied adequate psychiatric help.

Mrs. Ada Leavell Dies at Equality

Mrs. Ada Leavell, 75, died at her home in Equality Friday morning. Tentative funeral arrangements are for Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church in Equality. Rev. W. R. Warner will conduct the service, and burial will be in the Equality city cemetery.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lou Ann Allen, Equality, and Mrs. Mike Naubier, East Alton; four sons, Sherman, Russell, Edward and Allen, and two brothers, Frank and H. Glover.

NITROGEN RESULTS ON CORN IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

AVERAGE OF CO-OP TESTS

Dry Weather Proves Value of Legumes

It will pay you in many ways to include legumes in your rotation. Good crops in dry years are just one bonus you'll collect. C. M. Linsley, extension agronomist at the University of Illinois, says southern Illinois farms with a soil improvement program, including regular legumes, produced good corn yields last year in spite of drought.

Most southern Illinois farmers face the critical problem of how to maintain good soil tilth. Good tilth is a must if the water-holding capacity of soils is to be increased. And legumes are essential to get proper tilth, Linsley says.

Moreover, if you produce the legumes necessary for good tilth, at the same time you'll probably produce enough nitrogen for the following crop. This means that less nitrogen fertilizer will be needed.

The accompanying chart shows the results of 1951-52 tests on limed plots on several southern Illinois farms.

With favorable moisture in 1951, corn following clover gave an increased yield of 19 bushels in response to nitrogen. All hay had been removed from two of the three test plots.

In 1952, with much less rainfall and with much of the legume removed, the increase from nitrogen was only 4 bushels.

A 60-pound application of nitrogen per acre gave only a 6-bushel increase in the 1951 corn crop on one of the test farms where more clover had been plowed under.

"If your soil lacks good tilth, nitrogen won't do much good, particularly if it's dry," says Linsley.

However, on the better types of soils in southern Illinois, nitrogen fertilizer will often increase the yield of second-year corn after legumes. Also, it will usually pay to top-dress wheat.

Chemicals Help U. S. Farmers Forge Ahead

WILMINGTON, Del. (UP)—A heartening report on the results of teamwork between science and agriculture was revealed through a 50 per cent step-up in farm production in the United States in the past decade.

The increased agricultural output was made during a period when the nation's population jumped 25 per cent.

In sharp contrast to this country's farm production gains, world production inched up a scant five per cent, while the world's population was increasing by 18 per cent during the 20-year period.

The E. I. duPont Co. cited the figures to demonstrate how the farmer in this country is reaping the benefits of more leisure time for less demanding physical labor through the use of agricultural chemicals.

The firm pointed out that while only about 12 per cent of America's population were engaged in farming, the nation was producing more through teamwork between technologists and farmers.

According to duPont, the problem of feeding the world's increasing millions is heightened by the fact that man is gradually pushing toward the limit of cultivatable land.

As the firm sees it, the world must work toward stepping up production per acre in the land already under the plow through science, if we are to minimize the effects of population increases.

Tree Planting Time in Illinois

Springtime has become tree planting time on Illinois farms. During the next six weeks approximately 2,000 landowners will plant 7,000,000 trees and multiflora-rose for the conservation of soil and wildlife and for the growing of useful timber crops, according to Ernest W. Kunze, District Forester at Harrisburg.

Tree orders will be accepted by the State Forester's office in the Illinois Department of Conservation at Springfield until April 30, he said. Order forms and full information will be mailed upon request. Currently, farmers are placing orders at the rate of 500 per month. Some 13 different kinds of evergreens, hardwoods, and wildlife plants are still available, and the cost of the reforestation stock ranges from $5 to $15 per thousand seedlings, f.o.b. the two State nurseries.

Already the sound of tractors and tree planting machines can be heard in southern Illinois where early orders have been delivered, Kunze said. Over 60 mechanical tree planters owned by forethought farm organizations, soil conservation districts, and individuals are in use over the State. Several are available for rent or for custom planting. In addition, hundreds of farmers have polished up their spades and mattocks for hand planting.

Careful studies indicate that there are more than 2,000,000 low production acres on Illinois farms made up of unused odd areas, steep slopes, idle fields or poor soil which will be more profitably used when planted to woodland crops.

Name Three To Top U. of I. Agriculture Positions

URBANA—The University of Illinois Board of Trustees today is expected to approve the appointment of Louis B. Howard, Tom S. Hamilton, and Harold W. Hannah to three top positions on the staff of the University's College of Agriculture.

Howard, associate director of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, is slated to be named dean of the College, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and director of the Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics. He will replace Dean R. R. Hudelson, who retires on September 1 of this year.

Hamilton, head of the division of animal nutrition in the department of animal science, is expected to be named associate director of the Experiment Station to replace Howard.

Hannah, professor of farm law in the department of agricultural economics, is being presented for Board approval as associate dean of the College to fill the position left vacant when Hudelson was named dean.

The recommendation for the three appointments is being made by University President Lloyd Morey. The appointments will become effective September 1.

Each of the three new administrators has made outstanding contributions to agriculture in his respective field.

Howard came to the University in 1948 as head of the newly created department of food technology. At the time of his appointment to that position, he was chief of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. He was appointed associate director of the Agricultural Experiment Station in 1951 and continued to serve as head of food technology.

Hamilton has been on the University staff since his graduation in 1917. He was named assistant chief in the animal nutrition division in 1939, advanced to associate chief the same year, became chief in 1944 and assumed the division leadership last year.

Well known as a teacher and writer on farm law, Hannah graduated from the College of Agriculture in 1932 and from the College of Law in 1935. He served as assistant to the dean and director of the college from 1937 through 1941, when he volunteered for active duty in the armed services. In the army Hannah became a qualified parachutist in 1942, moved overseas in 1943 and partici-

Birdsfoot Trefoil Provides Long-Lived Sod on Slopes

Birdsfoot trefoil offers advantages as a forage legume where long-lived sod is wanted on relatively steep slopes or where soil normally is subject to more than average alternating wet and dry conditions, says E. F. Sullivan, agronomist at Southern Illinois university.

However, birdsfoot should not be used where reasonable success may be obtained with alfalfa or ladino clover because it is established more slowly, has lower yielding ability, has less seedling vigor, and higher seed costs. Birdsfoot requires the same soil lime and nutrient level as alfalfa during the establishing period, but once established it will do better on soils of decreasing fertility than will the alfalfa. It will respond greatly the first year to nitrogen and superphosphate.

The legume may be seeded in August or in early spring in well prepared seedbeds, using five pounds per acre with a grass such as timothy, bromegrass, or Kentucky bluegrass. Empire is the best variety for pasture; the European variety, for hay. Inoculate the seed with 10 times the recommended amount, using slightly more than a teaspoonful of molasses per five pounds to aid the inoculum in sticking to the seed.

Birdsfoot will do best without a companion crop, but if seeded on weedy land spring oats and barley may be used if the crop is removed for hay before moisture becomes low. Seeding with grass always is necessary to lend support to the legume and prevent weediness. Birdsfoot has weak stems and tends to lodge easily without the grass. Timothy seems to be the best, but others may be used successfully according to soil conditions.

Like ladino clover, the legume will not tolerate continuous close grazing. It is managed and handled for hay much the same as alfalfa.

SIU Country Column

Estimates indicate that subsoils in southern Illinois are short from eight to 10 inches of rainfall. It would take a mighty wet spring to replace that deficiency.

One of the SIU agronomists says that the farmer who follows good soil conservation practices will better save the moisture as it falls. This means terracing the slopes, planting on the contour, strip cropping, and building grass waterways. A plentiful supply of organic matter helps soak up and hold the water. Crop residue mulches help hold the soil and water, too.

For faster decomposition of corn stalks to produce organic matter in the soil apply about 120 pounds of ammonium nitrate (40 pounds of nitrogen equivalent) per acre before the stalk land is plowed. Disk down the corn stalks and nitrogen before plowing under.

Now is the time that the flavor of onions is likely to show up in milk. Wild garlic is growing well in many Southern Illinois pastures and fields now. The Grade A milk producers, of course, must watch closely for onion flavor in milk. A helpful method for preventing it is to take the cows off pasture and feed them some dry feed at least two hours before milking time.

With the reduction in butter support prices and the prospects of lower milk prices, dairymen will need to cut production costs to the bone. One good way to do it is to sell two of those cows giving less than 5,000 pounds of milk annually and buy one instead that will give 8,000 pounds per year.

Don't re-breed your cows for at least eight weeks after calving. This will help prevent breeding troubles.

Don't let people tell you that feeding milk to chicks in galvanized containers will cause poisoning. It doesn't.

A good chicken flock is not an accident. It is the result of good management. First you need chicks that are pullets passed or pulletized and bred for high production and livability. Rate of growth in chicks is inherited as well as being the result of good feeding and management.

Visitors should not walk through the poultry house or yard without disinfecting their shoes. There is too much danger of spreading diseases in the flock. When poultry diseases break out, get an accurate diagnosis first. It may save you chickens and expenses. Always bury or burn the dead chickens to prevent the spread of diseases.

A dim light in your brooder house will help to keep chicks from crowding. You can lose a raft of chicks in no time when crowding occurs.

And don't forget to keep records on your poultry enterprise. It will help you keep up with costs and to know the status of your business. A good record system may aid you in making changes that will turn a losing proposition into a neat profit.

pated in the early airborne invasion of France. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel in July 1944 and was wounded in Holland the following September. He returned to the University staff in September 1945 following his retirement from the army.

Smokey Says:

More power for you

with the
2-plow CA

We have it — more work power for you — in the Model CA Tractor. With two 14-inch plows, it walks right along in 2nd gear in toughest soils. Why?

1. The rugged Allis-Chalmers engine delivers 23.55 drawbar hp. and 26.62 belt hp. at only 1650 rpm.
2. AUTOMATIC TRACTION BOOSTER, the new engineering principle that puts horsepower completely to work. Implement weight is transferred automatically to rear wheels as needed.

SNAP-COUPLES eliminates time lost in all job changes. Overs with both mounted and trail-type implements. When it's time to cultivate, power-shift wheels are spaced in minutes. For harvesting, the CA's two-clutch system lets you shift forward motion without slowing power take-off speed. Power used in ground travel is released to the P.T.O.

Let us demonstrate this new Allis-Chalmers power on your farm. It's built to earn a profit.

Mrs. Nellie Cast Honored With Birthday Potluck
Friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Dollie Davis Wednesday afternoon for a birthday dinner given in honor of Mrs. Davis' sister, Mrs. Nellie Cast.

Potluck was enjoyed by members of the Birthday club, of which Mrs. Cast is a member. Mrs. Mary Tanner baked a lovely cake for the occasion.

Mrs. Cast also received many nice gifts.

Those present were Mrs. Anna Knickerbocker, Harrisburg, Mrs. Martha Hood, Mrs. Eva Nolen, Mrs. Della Wolfe, Mrs. Mary Tanner, Miss Rudella Ashby, Mrs. Nellie Seat, Mrs. Dollie Davis, the honored guest Mrs. Cast, and a special invited guest, Mrs. Ethel Ashford, from Rosiclar.

Before departing, Mrs. Martha Hood led the group in prayer.

Sterling Hayden and J. Carrol Naish surprise the enemy in this scene from Allied Artists' "The Enemy in the Sky", in color, to show at the Orpheum Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Alan Ladd prepares to attack in this scene from Columbia's exciting new film, "Paratrooper", in color by Technicolor, to show at the Grand Sunday and Monday.

THE STORY: Private Detective Jim Dunn, who had been in Colorado City for the wedding of Police Lieut. Mark Richards, has suggested that Banker Atwood knew more about the murder than he told when questioned. Chief of Police Drover was stashed by two parading "monsters" in a fake horror film publicity stunt. Nancy Drover, the chief's daughter, was a close friend of Mark's bride.

It had been an unpleasant dream and Jim was glad to return to at least partial consciousness. "Saved by the bell," he muttered aloud. He sat up in bed and yawned.

He stumbled through the dark room, found a light switch and the telephone.

"We're coming by for you," Mark Richards said. "Thought I'd give you a call so you could be downstairs."

Mark and Nancy were just driving up to the hotel entrance when he came through the doors. His hair was dripping a little, but he was fairly sure he had on all of his clothes.

"Hello, Nancy," he said. "She could smile at him now. 'Hello, Jim, Mark says I can help, and that's what I want.'"

Jim crowded in the front seat, scowled at Mark.

"What's the big idea?" he demanded.

"You don't have to be so protective," Nancy said firmly. "Really, Jim, I'll feel much better doing something."

Jim offered her a cigarette, lit it and one for himself. The smoke tasted as if it were made of crocote mixed with some abrasive. His mouth and throat felt like a worn-out furnace flue after too hot a fire. He looked at his watch, listened to it, and found out it had stopped.

"It's five minutes of nine," Richards said. "In the evening. The same evening, 'In you're in doubt.'"

"Quite a nap," Jim admitted.

"Why don't we go to a restaurant and talk now?" Jim wanted to know.

"Sorry," Richards put in, "but I don't think we'd better take the time. According to report, he goes to bed early."

"Atwood?" Jim asked.

"Yes. We're back to him again."

Mark Richards pounded on the door of the hotel suite occupied by the banker Atwood. The heavy old-fashioned panel swung open a few inches, was checked by an inside chain.

"Who's that?" It was an unfamiliar gruff voice.

Richards told his name.

The gruff voice said something that could not be heard in the hallway, and now a beefy red face

Women's Club Program Planners Hold Auditions
Club program planners from Saline and nearby counties attended the larger audition held at Southern Illinois university Friday by the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs program bureau. From Harrisburg, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, state TV department chairman, Mrs. C. C. Porter, regional publicity chairman, and Mrs. J. L. Miller, first vice president of the Harrisburg club, were present.

From Eldorado, Mrs. P. L. Wetlaw, former state president; Mrs. D. L. Barthel, regional director and state vice president, and Mrs. Graydon Davidson, president-elect of the Eldorado club, were present.

Talent from the university and various areas of southern Illinois was auditioned, more than 200 women who are selecting program material were present. C. C. Porter, Harrisburg magician, was on the program.

Key Senators Praise Aid To Indochina
WASHINGTON (UP) — Key senators today endorsed the Defense Department decision to send more planes and other war materials to the hard-pressed French and native forces in Indochina.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) summed up the general congressional reaction when he said sending equipment is far better than sending troops.

No immediate criticism was voiced over the plan to dispatch 25 more B26 light bombers, as well as parachutes, ammunition and medical equipment, to help the French Union forces hold the embattled bastion of Dien Bien Phu against the Communist assault.

The Pentagon announced the additional aid Friday night as Gen. Paul Ely, chief of French armed forces, left here after a six-day conference with top U. S. officials on the entire Indochina situation.

Russell, ranking Democrat on the Armed Services Committee, said the stepped-up aid is in line with established United States policy of supplying French forces with military aid.

Temporary Loan Basis
He said if the French continue to furnish the manpower there is little chance the conflict will flare into a larger war. But use of American troops might lead to open intervention by Red China, Russell warned.

The Defense Department said the bombers will be sent to Indochina on a temporary loan basis "in the near future."

American officials hope the additional supplies to aid the French, Laotian and Vietnamese forces against the Communist-led Viet Minh rebels will have great propaganda as well as military value.

They feel it is especially important, in view of the forthcoming Geneva conference, to convince the free world that the United States is willing to go all out, short of direct intervention with troops, to prevent the Communists from taking Indochina and gaining control of the key to strategically vital Southeast Asia.

Mrs. James Reed Hostess To Equality Tuesday Club
The Equality Tuesday club met at the home of Mrs. James B. Reed and Mrs. Elizabeth Reed Tuesday evening, March 23. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. A. Womack.

For roll call the personal creed or philosophy of each woman was given and the sharing of these beliefs was an enjoyable experience.

The leader was Mrs. W. R. Warner who chose as her topic, "Spiral Staircase," which was a discourse on the progress of mankind and a faith that human progress, though often times slow, was ultimately spiraling toward God. The meeting was closed with the reading of either sentimental or humorous poems to each person present.

Seasonal refreshments of chicken sitting in green coconut nests of cake and ice cream were served to the following members: Mesdames Ira Adams, B. D. Barnett, Ida B. Coyle, David Sanks, F. A. Smith, Walter Sutton, W. R. Warner, J. A. Womack, Charles Yost and the hostess, Mrs. Reed.

Guests were Mrs. Alice Womack, Mrs. Earl Hirtman and Mrs. Elizabeth Reed.

Mrs. Ira Adams and Mrs. William Williams attended a prayer band meeting at the First Methodist church in Eldorado Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Phillips and daughter, Cynthia, visited Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. Bob Barnett and family, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hale have as a house guest, Mrs. Hale's sister.

The New Haven Methodist church was the March host to the Methodist men's organization of Gallatin county. Rev. N. A. Motzer of the Children's home at Mt. Vernon was the guest speaker. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served to a record breaking crowd of 68 men. Those attending from Equality were Ed Hines, George Mitchell, Jewell Sisk, Fred Prather, Lawrence Hale, George Guard, David Sanks, John Karber and W. R. Warner.

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Warner and children were dinner guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. David Sanks and son.

Eight of Nine GOP Candidates for Senator Support Bricker Principle

CHICAGO (UP) — Eight of the nine GOP candidates for the U. S. senatorial nomination support the principle of the Bricker amendment in some degree, a survey shows.

The opinions of the candidates on this and other questions were gathered by the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

The council reported that outright support for the Bricker amendment to limit presidential treaty-making power was in the minority. The amendment, which was defeated in Senate debate this year, came from Edgar Elbert, Edward Hayes, Park Livingston, Joseph Meek and Lar America First Daily.

John B. Crane and Julius Klein told the council they supported the compromise amendment proposed by Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.). Austin L. Wyman said he favored the principle of "clarification of executive agreements made by any President."

Oppose China In UN
Alderman Herbert Geisler of Chicago opposed the Bricker amendment because "the legislative branch of government is too cumbersome and slow in an age when the international situation changes so quickly."

On the question of admitting China to the United Nations, Crane, Daly, Elbert, Klein, Livingston, Meek and Wyman opposed entry. Geisler said that allowing China at the Geneva convention next month "is an effort to deal realistically with the situation."

The council asked, "Are you in favor of resuming hostilities in Korea in event a peace treaty is not concluded?"

Klein and Livingston answered, "No."

Meek said, "I prefer strength

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our son, Junior Darrell Rebecca, who was killed four years ago today, March 27, 1950.
Many a lonely heartache,
Often a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory
Of one we loved so dear.
Sadly missed so much by his parents, grandparents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Cathcart, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rebecca and Sue and Sharon. 228-1

U. I. Students To Climax Church Campaign Sunday
CHAMPAIGN (U) — University of Illinois students will climax the "March to Church in March" campaign Sunday with hundreds of additional students expected to join the thousands of regular church-goers at services.

The program to encourage regular church attendance and worship was sponsored by the University Student Senate. It was endorsed by state and university leaders including Gov. William G. Stratton and University President Lloyd Morey.

The 13 campus church foundations, four organized student housing groups, YMCA and YWCA, Religious Workers Assn. and the Fraternity and Sorority Chaplains Assn. also endorsed the movement.

Many of the women's organized housing groups will hold coffee hours as hostesses to men students before Sunday church services. Campus churches, most already overcrowded by regular attendance, are expected to be overflowing Sunday.

Sixteen church groups have foundations or activities at the university, with buildings and equipment valued at four million dollars. More than half the 15,797 students here attend church regularly.

NO COUNSEL FOR HEARING
Mrs. Moss flatly denied the charge. Today's action does not mean her case is closed. Under the law, she had to be reinstated within 30 days after her suspension unless a letter of charges had been filed against her.

The Wisconsin Republican had summoned Mrs. Moss before his subcommittee to show Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens how alleged Communists had been able to get Army jobs.

Meanwhile, plans to get hearings underway Monday on McCarthy's feud with the Army collapsed Friday when the subcommittee failed to come up with a counsel to head the special inquiry.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), acting subcommittee chairman, said selection of a prominent attorney to conduct the probe was delayed because leading nominees for the job could not be reached by telephone.

Ed Mathews Hits His First Homer of Training Season As Braves Rout Crackers

By United Press
Reports that Ed Mathews "had his home run touch" were labeled "premature" today by the Milwaukee Braves' big slugger and manager Charley Grimm.

Mathews, who challenged Babe Ruth's record pace until late last season, hit his first round-tripper of the Grapefruit League season Friday night to spark the Braves' 11-0 rout of the Atlanta Crackers.

Mathews had gone homerless in Milwaukee's previous 19 exhibition games leading to thinly veiled hints that something was wrong with him.

"There's nothing wrong that a little home cooking won't cure," Grimm grinned after Mathews finally broke the ice Friday night. "Ed's been meeting the ball solidly all spring and he'll probably walk off with the homer title again this year."

while, were looking more like world champions after an 8-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Allie Reynolds, turning in one of his strongest outings of the spring, pitched the last four innings and was touched for only one unearned run. The Dodgers, however, still hold a 3-2 lead in the eight-game spring series which will be concluded at Yankee Stadium and Ebbets Field just before the season opens.

Reds Edge Cardinals
In the other games Friday, the Cincinnati Reds edged out the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2, despite a fine pitching performance by 20-year-old pitcher Harvey Haddix; the Washington Senators routed the Boston Red Sox, 10-1, and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Detroit Tigers, 6-2.

Squad cuts were beginning in earnest, too, with the Pittsburgh Pirates announcing the assignment of $100,000 bonus pitcher Paul Pettit to their Huntsville, Tex., camp. Manager Fred Haney also announced that 16 players, including Joe Page, Walker Cooper, Max Surkont and Cal Abrams, were being sent to Brunswick, Ga., where the main squad will join them on April 7.

The Boston Red Sox revealed that pitcher Ivan Delock, Ben Flowers, Hershel Freeman and Alan Curtis have been assigned to their Louisville farm club in the American Association. All but Curtis appeared briefly with the Red Sox last season.

East Favored Over West in All-Star Tilt

NEW YORK — Beanpole Bob Pettit will be wearing a uniform emblazoned "East" tonight, and that's one big reason why the East team will be a slight favorite over the West in the eighth annual college all-star basketball game at Madison Square Garden.

Pettit, 6-foot, 9-inch "power tower" from Louisiana State, played in a similar all-star extravaganza last Monday in Kansas City but then he was favoring in the uniform of the Western forces.

When the evening was over, Pettit had racked up 21 points to lead the scorers on both squads and that, plus his brilliant work on rebounding and feeding, earned him the award as the "most valuable player" in the game.

In so doing, Pettit overshadowed Furman's Frank Selvey, the lad who blocked him during the regular season from being the highest scorer in college history. Pettit's 31.4 points per game average exceeded anything seen before in major-league play—but it was only good enough for second place in the point derby as Selvy smashed all marks with a 41.7 average.

Tonight, Selvy will be a teammate of Pettit and will be burning to erase the memory of that poor showing in Kansas City. According to the present plans of Coach Howard of New York University, who will guide the East squad, both brilliant scorers will be in the starting lineup along with Togo Palazzi of Holy Cross and two Kentucky stars, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos.

Against this combine, Coach Ossie Cowles of Minnesota has lined up for the Western team a starting lineup which finds 6-9 Johnny Kerr of Illinois matching Pettit's height at center, and includes Ed Kalafat of Minnesota, Arnie Short of Oklahoma City, Bob Leonard of Indiana, and Allen Kelley of Kansas.

Cann and Cowles both plan to substitute an entire new team at the start of the second period. After that circumstances will direct the selection of personnel.

Other Eastern players are Larry Costello of Niagara, John Clune of Navy, Jerry Domerschied of CCNY, Richie Guerin of Iona, Cliff Hagan of Kentucky, Bill Hannon of Army, and Al Larkin of Fordham.

Rounding out the Western squad are Bobby Mattick of Oklahoma A&M, who is the tallest player on either squad at 6-11, Al Bianchi of Bowling Green, Dick Farley of Indiana, Charley Kraak of Indiana, Don Lance of Rice, Bob Matheny of California, and Bill Sullivan of Notre Dame.

'Big Pitcher' Antonelli Could Again Break Up the Braves

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
BRADENTON, Fla. — (NEA) — Johnny Antonelli, who helped break up the Braves once, might easily be doing it again this year.

When the kid southpaw came to the pennant-winning Braves of 1948 with a $65,000 bonus and his pop alongside him, he set off a chain reaction of resentment which exploded in Billy Southworth's face the next season.

Now, six years later, Antonelli might be hampering the Braves again—this time from afar. In trading the Rochester lad to the Giants in a deal which they'd much rather forget until Bobby Thomson gets off crutches, it could be that the Milwaukee brass gave up pitching strength in excess of what they can afford. With Antonelli went another left-hander, Don Liddle. Max Surkont was swapped to the Pirates. Between them, the three accounted for 30 games.

When the Thomson for Antonelli and Liddle deal was announced, baseball-wise Fresno Thompson of the Dodgers arched his eyebrows and observed: "I believe Milwaukee is over-estimating its pitching strength. Bobby Thomson is 30, doesn't figure to get any better. Antonelli is a young comer... a real good pitcher. Liddle was extremely effective for quite a spell. I don't believe the Braves can afford to lose them, especially Antonelli."

Charley Grimm obviously is taking his pitching for granted. He is assuming that the 23-year-old Warren Spahn will be as effective as ever. He is presuming that Bob Buhl, who might tail off as the re-

German Boxer Wins Decision In U. S. Debut

NEW YORK — Middleweight Gustav (Budi) Scholz of Germany proved himself a solid puncher but an awkward boxer in his American debut while winning the unanimous 10-round decision over speedy Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., at Madison Square Garden.

The unbeaten Berlin southpaw drew unqualified praise today from Managing Director Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club, a man whose opinion counts much. Markson said, "I was delighted with his showing. He'll do well and make a lot of money in this country."

Jack Dempsey said, "He's a great prospect, but he's still green. He needs a lot of work. He's a good puncher, but he leaves himself open too much."

The three ring officials favored Gustav on rounds as follows: Referee Harry Kessler, 6-3-1; Judge Harold Barnes, 7-2-1; Judge Jack Gordon, 6-3-1. The United Press had it 7-2-1.

Rangy Scholz, scaling 156 1/2 pounds to Andrews' 155 1/4, displayed punch while flooring the Wisconsin youngster in the fifth round with a left hook to the chin, and by knocking him through the ropes with a right jab in the seventh and by staggering him on four other occasions.

But Gustav, fighting flat-footed with his right foot well forward in the nearly normal southpaw stance, was either too eager or too awkward to finish his opponent when he had him in trouble. That was apparent particularly in the ninth round, when a left hook staggered Al on the ropes. Scholz then missed his wobbly opponent with several frantic shots for the head.

Both 23-year-old scrappers were bleeding from the nose at the final bell. It was Gustav's 50th victory in 52 fights. He has had two draws.

Built in World War II, the Alaska Highway cost $138,000,000.

Harrisburg Nine To Hold Outdoor Practice Sunday

The Harrisburg baseball club will hold outdoor practice again Sunday afternoon at the town park diamond. All players are urged to be present by 1:30.

Eleven players reported for a long workout last Sunday with several regulars from last year's team missing due to inclement weather.

The prospects for a stronger team than last year's club, which turned in a very creditable 27-14 won and lost record, seems to be in the offing with the addition of a few new players. Dick Romonovsky has reported after two years of foreign service and will make a strong bid for the number one receiving job. Junior Partain, the young fence buster of last year's Carmac Coals, and Dunbar and Finney, two prize acquisitions from the Benton Merchants, should give Odle and Gulley ample competition in the long range department.

Charles Nelson, the club's booking agent, has declared the team's season will begin in April with the exact date to be announced later.

Fatal Plane

The plane designed by Anthony Fokker and used by Germany during World War I was credited with approximately 50 per cent of the Allied casualties.

Longest Tunnel

The world's longest tunnel runs through Ben Nevis, Scotland. The tunnel is 15 miles long and is a pipe line for an electrical system.

Build in World War II

Built in World War II, the Alaska Highway cost $138,000,000.

ALL IN FUN

Pat O'Connor hurdles over Tony Cosenza in a good example of what makes wrestling click. O'Connor's right foot is flattened out in the classic style all hurdlers use to avoid hitting the bar.

IN TIME OF NEED...

It took less than an hour—forty-nine minutes, to be exact! The planes, the bombs, the strafing, the invading army... and then it was all over. But how long does it take to get over a war, when it happens right on your doorstep? A year... twelve years... a lifetime?

The American who feels no compassion toward the tragic millions in whose front yard the battle had to be fought has forgotten the sacred scars of the Revolutionary War. The Christian who cannot see His Lord suffering in the pathos of a crippled world has forgotten the Cross of Christ.

This week in almost all of the churches of our land people will be asked to give... to aid their distressed brethren in other lands. Even if you haven't been to church for a long while—go now to share your blessings with a world of suffering millions. And, perhaps, in the very act of giving you'll discover anew the joy of worship.

By the gift of His Son, God touched the heart of mankind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible study.

Additional Church Notes

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
When Jesus would teach His disciples the lesson of humility. He spoke of the greatness of service.

When the mother of Zebedee's children came to Him (Matthew 20:20-29), asking a special place for her sons, James and John, and the other 10 disciples were roused with indignation. Jesus spoke to them all very plainly.

Greatness, He said, was not at all as the world viewed it: the princes of the Gentiles exercising dominion, and the great ones exercising authority.

"It shall not be so," He said.
"among you; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant."

Moreover Jesus said He was himself among them as "he that serveth" (Luke 22:27), and to enforce the lesson He gave them the example of humility and service in the washing of their feet (John 13:4-16).

But for the disciples there was something even greater than service. Perhaps it was when the disciples had learned the lesson of service that near the closing days
(John 15:15) Jesus said to them:
"Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends."

What did Jesus mean by friendship? Friendship, Jesus emphasized, had its foundation in love. Love, in turn, was evidenced by responsibility. Love had obligations; it was not a matter of words, or of mere sentiment.

"If ye love Me," said Jesus,
"keep my commandments" (John 14:15). "He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth Me; and he that loveth Me shall be loved of My Father, and I will love him, and will manifest Myself to him" (John 14:21).

"If ye love Me, keep My commandments"; "Ye are My friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you" (John 15:14). That is the complete circle, and the full revelation of the meaning of love and friendship.

The citing of these passages stresses this deepest experience in the lives of Christian disciples.
We can be the friends of God.
For the God whom Jesus revealed is not a power symbolized by some monstrous idol, but a God
Who is Our Father.
He is the enlargement and perfection of the human father, who loves his own and would not give his son a stone if he asked for bread, or a serpent if he asked for fish (Matthew 7:9).

"Which of you, being a father," said Jesus. What monstrous misrepresentations and agonies of soul might have been avoided, if, as Jesus sought to teach us, we would approach and find God through all that is best in ourselves, and in our Elder Brother, the Man Christ Jesus!

"I've found a Friend, oh, such a Friend!"

He loved me ere I knew Him;
He drew me with the cords
of love.
And thus He bound me to Him.
That is Friendship.
